

Health Recovery Diet - Blood Type O

The foods listed below affect your health in either a positive (therapeutic) or negative (harmful) way. As you are regaining your health, eat foods from the left hand column and completely avoid foods from the right hand column. Foods that are not listed are considered neutral and OK to eat. This diet is for you. Although you will begin to feel well, it may not be suitable for others in your family or circle of friends.
